NOTIFICATION.

No. 114Com.—13th January 1941.—Whereas in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 (VII of 1929), a Court of Inquiry was appointed under notification No. 2154Com., dated the 29th June 1940, to investigate the trade dispute between Messrs. George Henderson and Co., Ltd., of 101/1, Clive Street, Calcutta, Managing Agents, Bally Jute Mill, Bally, district Howrah, and the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments of the said Mill;—

And whereas, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the said Act, the Court of Inquiry has submitted its report to the Governor;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 12 of the said Act, the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said report in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,

M. K. KIRPALANI,

Joint Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report of the Court of Enquiry appointed under section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 (Act VII of 1929), to investigate the trade dispute between Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., of 101/1, Clive Street, Calcutta, Managing Agents, Bally Jute Mill, Bally, district Howrah, and the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments of the said Mill.

This report arises out of a Court of Inquiry set up under section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act to investigate the dispute existing between the workers of the Weaving and Jute Departments on the one hand, and the management on the other, of the Bally Jute Mills. These mills are situated at Bally, in the district of Howrah, and managed by Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., of Calcutta. At the time that the incidents connected with the present proceedings occurred, Mr. H. C. Wilkie was the Manager of the mill, Mr. J. C. K. Watson was the Overseer in charge of the Jute Department, and Mr. Craighan in charge of the Weaving Department. Mr. McKenzie officiated for Mr. Watson for a few weeks in December 1939 and January 1940.

The circumstances leading up to the enquiry are these:—

In August 1939, some workers of the Weaving Department headed by Khalil approached the Manager with allegations of bribery and extortion against one Karim Sardar. Not much heed, it is said, was paid to the complaint, and the aggrieved men thinking that redress would not be possible through the proper channel, were persuaded to seek the help of the Bengal National Jute Workers' Union. An investigation was made by Mr. Shafaatullah Khan, but that was as far as the matter got. The men then appealed to the Labour Commissioner who wrote to the Manager on 21st September 1939, asking for the full facts. In reply the Managing Agents said that as the investigation had indicated the probability of the truth of the charges against Karim, steps would be taken for his dismissal. Soon after this a complaint was received from Mr. Shafaatullah Khan that the dismissal of Karim had also involved the discharge of Khalil and several others who were members of his Union. There was a joint enquiry by the Assistant Labour Commissioner and Mr. Das, the Labour Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association, on the 12th December 1939. It was represented to the Assistant Labour Commissioner that except six men, Khalil, Jalil, Bechu, Nabi, Sadeq and Abdul Satter who had been dismissed for an incident on 5th October 1939, the others had been suspended for bad work and would be reinstated as soon as work was available. Nothing, however, came of this assurance, and on 9th January 1940, some of the suspended men came to the Labour Commissioner to say that they had not yet got their jobs back. The management's reply to his enquiry was that only four of the men had been suspended, while the others had been dismissed for misconduct and breach of discipline, thus resiling from their previous statement that with the exception of six persons the rest had been subjected simply to temporary suspension. As the company's attitude in this respect seemed to be unrelenting, and all efforts for a satisfactory arrangement failed, the only course left open was the appointment of a Court of Inquiry.

While this dispute was in progress, signs of trouble were manifest among workers in another department of the mill. The relevant facts are as follows:—

On the 29th December 1939, the Manager received a petition signed by some bale-carriers and coolies containing allegations of bribery and extortion against the Babus of the Jute Department. It was alleged that workers had to bribe the clerks to get jobs and to keep them. It was said that the attendance register was so manipulated that men received wages far more than their due share of work, the balance going into the pockets of the Babus. It was also suggested that bogus tickets of bale-carriers and coolies were kept and their wages dishonestly appropriated by the clerks. The complaint led to an enquiry by the Manager who was unable to detect any irregularity, though the men contended that ~~some~~ bogus tickets had been discovered at the mill. No action was taken until, it is said, the men, finding no improvement in the situation, sent a petition direct to the Managing Agents. The petition was refused, but the Sales Master came down on the 3rd February 1940, and questioned some of the men. It was a Pyrrhic victory for the workers, however, as from the following day the services of 28 bale-carriers and coolies were dispensed with. After being turned away from the mill gates, the men approached the Labour Commissioner, but his attempts to intercede with the management on their behalf met with little response. Nevertheless, the Labour Commissioner visited the mill. He questioned the men, examined the attendance registers and was convinced that there was some substance in the allegations of bribery against the clerical staff. Also the entry of some names in the register in unusual places pointed almost beyond doubt to interpolation, while the clerks' failure to explain the numerous corrections and erasures seemed to lend considerable support to the theory of bogus tickets. Regarding the wholesale dismissals on 5th February the Manager's explanation was that this was due to retrenchment. He also said that apprehending trouble from the discharged men he had recruited new hands temporarily so as to prevent disorganisation of work in the event of a strike. The workers on the other hand maintained that the Manager's action was not so much a measure of retrenchment as a gesture of the company's disapproval of the men's attempt to subject it to pressure from outside. It might be mentioned here that during the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February the Manager made no mention of the engagement of these extra hands, and the fact was elicited later over the telephone. All attempts at conciliation met with scant sympathy from the management, and it became increasingly clear that if Government wanted a proper investigation it would have to be under the Trade Disputes Act.

As a matter of fact as early as 29th February 1940, Mr. Shafaatullah Khan had made an application that the dispute be referred to such a Court. A similar prayer had also been made previously in respect of the dismissals of certain weavers of the mill. Accordingly I was appointed to be the Court of Inquiry with the direction to enquire into and report on the circumstances of the trade dispute existing between the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments and Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., and in particular to report on—

- (1) Whether the allegations of bribery and extortion made by the workers against the clerical staff of the Jute Department are true;
- (2) Whether certain clerks of the Jute Department (e.g., Abhoy, Tripura, Moni and Nishu) jointly or severally kept bogus names of bale-carriers and coolies on the registers, and directly or indirectly through the workers received the weekly wages for these fictitious men;
- (3) Whether the labourers working in the Jute Department of the mill suffered by having to work overtime and on Sundays in order to complete the work represented to have been done by a greater number of men or in any other way, and if so, whether they were properly paid for the extra work;
- (4) Whether the dismissals of certain workers of the Jute Department on the 5th February 1940 were justified;
- (5) Whether the mill authorities attempted to give preference to those who had previously worked for the company in the case of any new hands recruited on or after the 5th February 1940; and, if such workmen were not given preference, on what grounds?
- (6) Whether there were sufficient and adequate reasons for the dismissal of a labourer named Jagat of the Jute Department on or about the 22nd February 1940;
- (7) Whether the dismissal of the following men of the Weaving Department was justified:—

Khalil Ahmed on or about 5th October 1939,
Jalil on or about 27th November 1939,
Bechu on or about 27th November 1939,

Nobi Muhammad on or about 27th November 1939,
 Sadiq on or about 27th November 1939,
 Abdul Sattar on or about 27th November 1939,

- (8) Were the following workers of the Weaving Department dismissed on or about 20th November 1939 or otherwise punished? If so, for what offences and with what justification :—

The Court commenced its sitting on the 15th July 1940. The statement of the workers was already in the file and the written statement on behalf of the company was put in on the 25th July 1940. In all 32 witnesses were examined for the workers on various dates. The Manager gave evidence on behalf of the company, while the Factory Inspector, the Labour Commissioner and the Assistant Labour Commissioner were examined as Court witnesses. I also went round the mill and made enquiries from the labourers regarding the allegations of bribery against the Babus. Arguments were heard on the 9th August 1940. At the enquiry the management was represented by Mr. H. D. Kitching (Solicitor, Orr Dignam & Co.) and the workers by Mr. Shafaatullah Khan.

I shall now discuss the issues separately :—

1. Bribery and extortion of the clerks.

On this point the case of the workers is that they had to pay the various clerks of the Jute Department for securing employment. Homage in cash was also exacted from time to time as security for tenure of the jobs, while religious festivals became occasions for special peace offerings. It is alleged that the registers were so manipulated that the men received more wages than were due to them, the arrangement being that after receipt of their wages they would refund the excess amounts to the Babus who kept record of such payments. There was the further allegation that Tripura Babu forced many of the men to buy their provisions from his brother's shop at Uttarpara on pain of dismissal. The company did not hold any brief for the Babus, but stated that in spite of surprise checks and enquiries by the management, no case of bribery or extortion had been detected. They, however, were perfectly willing to render every assistance to the Court were prepared to dismiss any of their staff found guilty of such offences, if Government so desired.

In a charge of this nature the evidence must, in the main, be oral, because it is not always easy to prove instances of illegal gratification on paper. Here we have the testimony of several workers who unequivocally assert that they had to pay money to Abhoy, Moni, Tripura and Nishu Babus before they could get any work. The charge against Abhoy Babu, the former Head Clerk, need not be considered in detail, as he has already retired from the service of the company. But it might be mentioned in passing that all the witnesses with one accord testify to the manner in which he exacted payments both at the time of recruitment and on special occasions such as the Durga Pujahs, Christmas and Kali Pujah. Money had also to be given from time to time to save the men from losing their jobs. Regarding Tripura Babu ten witnesses gave specific instances of payment. Dwarika, one of the bale-carriers dismissed on the 5th February 1940, says that after he returned to duty for the season in Sraban last he had to pay Rs. 15 as bribe to Tripura Babu before being able to join. He goes on to say that though from Sraban to Agrahayan last he worked only three or four days a week, he drew wages for five or six days and the excess wages had to be handed over to the Babus who kept a list showing the amounts due from each worker. Similarly Jagat, another dismissed bale-carrier, cites an instance of payment of Rs. 12 to Tripura Babu at the time of entering service in Ashar last. It appears that after working for four months he was forced to pay another Rs. 16 in order to retain his job. This amount of Rs. 12 he managed to secure by a loan of Rs. 8 from a Brahmin working in the Spinning Department of the mill, Rs. 3 from his brother in Kamarhaty, and the remaining Re. 1 he paid from his pocket. The Brahmin, Ongre Pandey, supported his story of the loan. Mohon, a cooly, said that he paid Rs. 14 to Tripura Babu when he joined in October 1939, and a further sum of Rs. 8 in the following Pous on his return from leave. He borrowed Rs. 14 from a mahajan called Prahlad who corroborates the witness on this point. Similar instances of payment are mentioned by witnesses Mongal, Lala, Govindhari, Jamuna, Ramdas, Baleswar and Ramprakash. All of them except Mongal are still in the company's employ and, therefore, have no particular reason to depose falsely against the Babus. Rather they would run the risk of incurring their displeasure by speaking in support of the dismissed men. As regards Moni Babu and Nishu Babu the only witness who actually saw them taking money is Dwarika. The others have no first-hand knowledge of their guilt, though they are convinced that all the Babus took a share of the illegal proceeds. Tripura, Moni and Nishu Babus who were permitted to be present at the enquiry and to cross-examine the witnesses, contended that the nature of their testimony clearly indicated that they had been tutored; Tripura Babu said that the persons who had given evidence against him were mostly his brother's debtors for purchase made from his shop. Many of the witnesses denied the suggestion of being indebted to Tripura's brother, and this clerk did not produce any account books to prove his allegation as he had originally assured the Court he would do. On behalf of the workers it was urged that as Tripura's brother's clientèle had perforce to be large, it would not be surprising to find some of the witnesses in that category.

Mr. Kitching too pointed out the extreme similarity of their evidence which he thought was suggestive of concoction. I do not admit the logic of this argument. Having regard to the consistent manner in which the witnesses deposed, giving details of the time and circumstances of each payment which are not likely to have been fabricated, I am inclined to believe them. They are also supported by men who are still in service of the company, and so should have no cause to support the "malcontents". Another fact should be borne in mind, and that is that the fair fame of the Babus is not without blemish, for the Manager admitted that in 1936 on a similar complaint Moni and Abhoy Babus were fined Rs. 20 each for suspected bribery—rather a good instance of punishment not being made to fit the crime.

As regards the payment of excess wages the evidence of the witnesses is full and clear. Dwarika says that though from Sraban to Agrahayan he worked only three or four days a week he drew wages for five or six days; the excess amount was refunded to one or other of the Babus. Fekoo, a cooly, makes a similar statement, and so do Mongal, Bhikari, Jamuna, Ramdas, Ramprakash, Baleswar and Gobindhari. Mongol says that though he worked only one day in the first week of his recruitment, he was paid for the full week, viz., Rs. 11-14-6. Out of this he kept Rs. 1-15-6 and gave the balance to Tripura Babu. According to Jamuna and Ramdas, every week one or two days' wages had to be handed over to Tripura Babu. The witnesses described how the Babus kept lists showing the amounts thus due from each man, and how on every pay day the workers had to part unwillingly with their illgotten gains. Much of the evidence on this point has been left unassailed by cross-examination. Nor did Tripura, Moni or Nishu Babu adduce evidence to the contrary as they assured me at the beginning of the enquiry they would. In order to test the story further I went round the mill and questioned as many men of the Jute Department as possible, and came away with the conviction that the charge of bribery at least was substantially true. Of course many of them refused to tell me anything, but the way in which they declined to commit themselves gave one the impression that these men had been warned in their own interest to keep their mouths shut.

Moreover, a glance at the attendance register maintained by Nishu Babu will prove the extreme lack of supervision on the part of the authorities. The book is full of unauthorised and inexplicable alterations and entries, thereby making it possible for the clerks to keep a record of their own choice, a record over which the management exercised little control. I shall deal with this matter in detail when discussing the question of bogus tickets.

From a consideration of these circumstances, therefore, I am led to the conclusion that Abhoy, Moni, Tripura and Nishu Babus were in the habit of receiving bribes from the workers both at the time of recruitment and on special occasions; that they exacted this money by threats of dismissal or other manifestations of their displeasure; that they conspired with the workers to draw more wages than were fairly due to them, and appropriated to themselves the excess amounts.

2. Maintenance of bogus tickets.

As regards this issue the allegation is that the clerks kept bogus names of bale-carriers and coolies in the register, and with the help of the men (who no doubt were given a share of the proceeds) drew the wages of the non-existent persons. To prove this Dwarika says that he never knew any bale-carrier by the name of Lalu, Lagan, Lachman or Hira, though wages for these persons were drawn for several weeks by one of the workers and handed over to the Babus. Lala, another bale-carrier, corroborates Dwarika on this point. Saukhi Sardar admits that he too had never known any bale-carriers, called Lalu, Lagan, Lachman or Hira. Baleswar deposed that he drew wages on Lagan's ticket for three weeks and paid the money to Tripura Babu, while Ramprakash alleges to have done the same on Lalu's ticket for a similar period. It is interesting to note the statement of Ramprakash in cross-examination about the way in which he took off his pugree to prevent recognition by the Kerani Sahib when he went up to receive the wages on the bogus ticket. Such a graphic description of an incident can, in my opinion, only proceed from actual experience. I do not think it probable that persons of the mental calibre of Ramprakash, Baleswar and others could have invented such a story. So far for the oral evidence.

The documentary evidence is no less significant. A reference to the attendance register of the Jute Department will make clear the numerous alterations, corrections and erasures of entries—most of them highly suspicious and inexplicable. To illustrate my point it will be convenient to examine the entries for some weeks during the period in question.

(a) Weeks ending 5th August 1939, 12th August 1939 and 19th August 1939.—No names of workers appear against Nos. 62 and 66, presumably because they were absent. This would seem to suggest that when a person was absent the practice was to leave a blank against his name in the register. But Nishu Babu who is responsible for the maintenance of the register said that as the names of workers were entered weeks ahead, absence without long notice necessitated correction of names. At least that is how he tried to explain the reason for so many alterations in the register. Clearly both these explanations cannot be correct. If the latter practice was in vogue, there seems to be no reason for the exception made during these few weeks in August; and if the custom was to omit the names, then the explanation given by the clerk is untenable. Another curious feature is that numbers given to different men are changed frequently without any rhyme or reason. Thus one Pardip who was allotted No. 68 from 26th August 1939 was suddenly given No. 76 from 21st October 1939, and his old number allotted to one Barhoo. Feku was No. 48 from 23rd September 1939, but from 21st October 1939 he became No. 77, and Jakhan became No. 48. Barhoo and Himraj were Nos. 93 and 94 on 11th November 1939, but were changed to 101 and 102 on 18th November 1939, and their old numbers given to Jagannath and Dipu. On 25th November 1939 Deonath and Jamuna were given Nos. 101 and 102 and Barhoo and Himraj became Nos. 103 and 104. Lachman and Hira who appeared on 25th November 1939 as Nos. 114 and 115 were given 120 and 121 on 2nd December 1939.

(b) Weeks ending 9th December 1939, 16th December 1939 and 23rd December 1939.—Lalu's and Lagan's names are evidently at the bottom of the page between Nos. 27 and 78, while Lachman and Hira reappear under Nos. 120 and 121. Abdul Gani, a pile-maker, comes at the bottom of the page as No. 124. There was plenty of space to write the names of Lalu, Lagan and Abdul Gani after the others as was done on 16th December 1939 and previously, but for some unknown reason this was not done. For the week ending 23rd December 1939 Kangali No. 72 was marked absent after being shown present, and in his place Hari No. 72A was put in.

(c) In the week ending 30th December 1939 Hari and Lachman were marked absent with "a", which is very unusual. The usual practice, so far as could be ascertained from the register, is to draw a line. The reason for this departure could not be explained by the clerk. Nishu Babu, on being questioned, said that he often did not check the attendance but relied on the information supplied by Abhoy Babu. Hence he said the numerous alterations. He also tried to make the Court believe that even the hours of attendance were noted beforehand in the register against each worker, and that if any one did not work full time, necessary alterations were made. But he could not reconcile this explanation with the numerous blanks in the attendance column against workers—presumably due to their absence from duty.

(d) Week ending 6th January 1940.—The attendance of Mahabir No. 8 on Saturday morning was marked and subsequently cancelled. A similar change was made in case of Himraj (No. 103) and Siree (No. 112). Again Lalu's name was inserted below No. 27 and the numerical order of bale-carrier changed suddenly, to reappear after No. 115.

(e) Week ending 13th January 1940.—Rameswar No. 83 is marked present after being shown absent on Saturday. Nathuni No. 28, Kusum No. 37 were marked present on Monday morning after having been shown absent. Alterations of the same nature were made in the case of Ramdas on Saturday and Amalba on Thursday. Jokhan No. 71 in the same way was marked absent on Sunday and Wednesday though at first he was shown present. Instances of this kind could be multiplied, but the ones mentioned above will afford sufficient illustration, I think, of the lamentably slack supervision of the controlling staff. Nishu Babu of course says that these alterations were necessary as entries were generally made in advance without any reference to the actual attendance of workers. This explanation of his has unfortunately been shaken by the evidence of Mr. Craig, the Departmental Manager, who stated that the attendance of nobody was marked until he himself had checked it in the morning.

Now let us turn to the bogus tickets. The tickets specifically mentioned by the witnesses are those of Lalu, Lagan, Lachman and Hira. If we examine the place and the manner in which these names have been entered in the register, we will find ample ground for suspicion. It will appear that Lachman's and Hira's names were not for some reason written with the other bale-carriers; they come after the pile-makers in the week ending 25th November 1939. They disappear during the following weeks, but are shown on 9th December 1939, against Nos. 120 and 121, while their previous Nos. 114 and 116 are given to Mongal and Gobindhari. They work under these numbers until 23rd December 1939, and for the weeks ending 30th December 1939 and 6th January 1940 they are marked absent. No explanation of course is forthcoming as to why their names were entered for two weeks when they clearly were not working and no substitutes were taken.

As regards Lalu and Lagan they appear for the first time in the week ending 2nd December 1939, but it is curious that their names were entered in ink of a noticeably different shade to that of the other entries. During the ensuing weeks their names were again written in different ink and were inserted at the bottom of one of the intermediate pages of the register after serial No. 27, up to which point the serial numbers had proceeded in proper order. To make these entries extra pencil lines had been added. Nishu Babu's explanation before the Labour Commissioner was that he thought that he must have run out of ink just before he came to make the entries of Lalu and Lagan. As regards the position of the entries he explained that in the list of workers all the bale-carriers were entered consecutively and all the pile-makers were also grouped together, and that if Lalu and Lagan had been entered at the end of the list, their names would have been inconveniently separated from the other bale-carriers, and so in order to prevent this, he squeezed their names at the bottom of the page after

No. 27. For the week ending 16th December 1939 Lalu and Lagan were again entered at the bottom of the first page on pencil lines. This week it appeared, however, that Abdul Gani, although a pile-maker, was entered among the coolies. It cut the ground off Nishu Babu's feet rather. To counter this difficulty he wanted to say that Abdul Gani's name must have been forgotten until after the total of the wages on the previous pages had been added up, making it thereby impossible to insert his name among the pile-makers without upsetting the total. The explanation was futile, since Abdul Gani was shown as working from the beginning of the week, while the totals of wages could only have been made up at the end of the week and there could be no question of the insertion of his name after the making up of the totals. During the next week a change takes place, and Lalu and Lagan, though shown in the register, do not appear to have attended or received wages. Of course no reason could be assigned as to why their names were entered when they were not working from the beginning of the week. Lalu again appears on 6th January 1940 but is shown to have received no payment. Lagan conveniently drops out altogether. The dates are important. It may be recalled that the first petition to the Manager mentioning the existence of bogus tickets of Lalu and Lagan was dated 29th December 1939. Lalu and Lagan, though entered in the register, are not shown to have worked for the week ending 30th December 1939. It is curious that no attendance or wages were entered for the first time against these two names, in the very week in which the workers complained to the Manager, and that thereafter the names are omitted altogether. The irresistible inference is that the clerks, coming to know of the complaint and of the Manager's impending enquiry on 6th January 1940, thought it wise not to draw the wages on the bogus tickets. In this connection the entries for the week ending 6th January 1940 will reveal an interesting feature. Several names appear to have been scored through together with the attendance previously marked against them. The names are Ramswarup No. 33, Jagannath No. 40, Baleswar No. 43, Jokhan No. 48, Ram Nahar No. 49, Kissen No. 61, Ramadin No. 65 and Bargui No. 68. The strange thing about it is that they were originally shown as having worked for the whole week, but for some mysterious reason were crossed out. No explanation has been offered for this change by Nishu Babu beyond the statement that he often had to make these changes after consulting Abhoy Babu. By this he means, I suppose, that he relied upon Abhoy Babu to keep him informed of the absence of the work is from duty, though he is the Hazri Babu. It is very difficult to believe that so many persons would be marked present for a full week if really they had not been present at all. If Abhoy Babu knew of their absence it is not understood why he did not inform Nishu Babu about it for so many days. All these circumstances tend to lend support to the suggestion that these names were really bogus and that when the clerk came to know of the Manager's enquiry on 6th January 1940, they hastily marked them absent for the whole week in order to prevent exposure. As it turned out, however, the Manager never referred to the register at all for checking the payments, and the clerks were spared the ordeal of having to explain these unaccountable cancellations.

There is one matter which needs mention and that is the assertion made by some of the witnesses that at the time of the Manager's enquiry several bogus tickets were discovered. Mr. Wilkie has emphatically stated that he found no bogus tickets, and that only one ticket of Nasiruddin was left over in the box. I must accept his evidence in this respect, for I think it likely that the men having noticed at least one ticket in the box allowed their imagination to colour their judgment. Nor was the Manager's enquiry of much help. Mr. Wilkie's evidence is that he did not check the wage tickets with the attendance register on the day of enquiry, and that he was not in a position to say whether the workers, assembled in the godown, represented the total number of men actually working in the mill. Under these conditions it cannot be definitely inferred that because the Manager failed to detect bogus tickets in the box on 6th January 1940, there were no bogus names in the register. All that Nishu Babu had to do was to remove the bogus tickets from the box and the Manager would be none the wiser.

Mr. Kitching wondered why the men should, all of a sudden, have experienced righteous indignation at the clerks' dishonesty when they had been content so long to view the company's loss with equanimity. The reason is not far to seek, though we have no direct evidence of it. There is little doubt that the wages of these bogus tickets had to be drawn through the workers who must have exacted a price for their connivance, so that when there was a hitch among the partners the truth leaked out.

I am, therefore, satisfied from the materials on record that so far at least as Nishu Babu is concerned the only reasonable hypothesis on which the unaccountable entries in the register can be explained is that of this man's guilt. The facts admit of no other sensible explanation. The complicity of the other Babus also (Moni, Abhoy and Tripura) may safely be inferred from the attendant circumstances.

3. Working over-time and on Sundays.

Mr. Shafaatullah Khan agreed not to press this issue. It appeared from the evidence of the Factory Inspector that permission had always been taken for working on Sundays. Wages were also paid for attendance on those days. As to working over-time on week days the evidence of the men is inconclusive and it could not be ascertained how long, if at all, they were made to work after hours without remuneration. The Company did not deny working over-time occasionally, but maintained that they did this without offending any of the provisions of the factories Act. For this reason and in view of Mr. Shafaatullah Khan's reluctance to pursue the matter, my answer to this question must be in the negative.

Dismissal of workers of the Jute Department on 5th February 1940 and the recruitment of new hands.

The two issues may be taken up together, for it seems to me that the latter issue could appropriately be considered as a corollary of the former. The case for the employees is that Dwarika and the others (28 in all) were unjustly turned out on 5th February 1940, because the mill authorities thought that in appealing to the Managing Agents against their decision, the men had been guilty of lèse majesté. The company's reply to this is twofold. In the first place, it is asserted that the management is at liberty to dismiss any employee without any reason, provided due notice or wages in lieu thereof is given. And secondly, it was pointed out that in the present case the men had been discharged and not dismissed owing to the seasonal falling off of jute imports. In other words, the men were retrenched and not turned away for complaining against the authorities.

To judge better the merits of these opposite claims I collected such information as I could from the mill registers about the quantity of jute in hand round about that period. This would furnish some idea of the amount of work the mill would be expected to cope with. The following figures will serve as illustration:—

Bales received for the week ending:—

27th January 1940	...	4,120
20th January 1940	...	5,338
13th January 1940	...	4,318
6th January 1940	...	8,187
3rd February 1940	...	5,708
10th February 1940	...	4,043
17th February 1940	...	4,874
24th February 1940	...	2,524

Bales consumed for week ending:—

27th January 1940	...	2,978
20th January 1940	...	2,963
13th January 1940	...	2,991
6th January 1940	...	3,432
3rd February 1940	...	2,991
10th February 1940	...	2,784

On 27th January 1940 it was calculated that 4,457 bales were lying in the canal awaiting storage. From these figures it does not appear that there was any appreciable decrease of imports in January to justify the sudden discharge of so many hands on 3rd February 1940. On the contrary for the week ending 3rd February 1940 more bales were received than during the three previous weeks. The consumption similarly was not less than in January. Moreover if 5,940 bales were lying in the canal on 3rd February 1940 there could be little prospect of a slack time in the immediate future. If, as the Manager says, it was possible to foresee the probable amount of work three or four days ahead, I find it somewhat difficult to fathom the reason for the discharge of as many as 28 hands on 3rd February. At least the state of affairs apparent from the registers cannot be reconciled with the company's plea that retrenchment was effected for shortage of work. As a matter of fact, the statement given below will show that the number of workers remained practically stationary throughout January and February, 1940. This proves that in effect there was no retrenchment.

For the week ending:

6th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	14 pairs.
Coolies	54

13th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	13 pairs.
Coolies	43

20th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	23 pairs.
Coolies	55

27th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	16 pairs.
Coolies	46

3rd February 1940—

Bale-carriers	16 pairs.
Coolies	42

10th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	15 pairs.
Coolies	40

17th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	15 pairs.
Coolies	40

24th February 1940—

carriers	16 pairs.
ies	40

With this must be considered the question of recruitment of several men on 5th February 1940. The Manager's explanation is that when the men, discharged on 3rd February 1940, refused to take their wages, he apprehended trouble and brought 12 men from Sibpur to prevent disorganisation of work in case of a strike. There was no trouble and the 12 men were kept on for some weeks, the reason for their retention being the company's disinclination to send them away without work. I am afraid I do not quite appreciate the force of this argument. If there was really no work for the men they could easily have been given a day or two's wages as compensation or even a week's wages and sent away. Instead of that not only were they kept on, but several others employed during the following weeks.

In this connection should be mentioned the fact that the names of these men were not shown in the regular register but entered in a separate book, and their wages were debited to "shifting charges". "Shifting charges" according to Nishu Babu are charges incurred for shifting bales from one godown into another. If this definition be correct then it is strange that these charges do not appear anywhere in the register except in those weeks during which these extra hands were entertained, though bales were shifted on occasions other than the three or four weeks in February. It is to be noted that the clerk's evidence on this point is at variance with that of the Manager who says that except those few weeks the mill never incurred any shifting charges. The non-entry of their names also in the regular register calls for comment. It seems that during the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February 1940 these persons did not muster with the others, nor were their names in the attendance register. The Factory Inspector was later told that they had been entered in a separate book. When he wanted to see this book on 6th March 1940 he was told that it had been destroyed. All this recourse to subterfuge could have been avoided had no attempt been made to conceal the presence of the new men at the time of inspection on 21st February 1940.

Another point of significance is that though 26 new hands were taken between 5th February and 25th May 1940, to cope with the rush of work in connection with re-stored jute, except Baijnath, Lalchand, Jadoo and Kisan, not one of the other dismissed men was re-employed. If really these men had been retrenched one would imagine that when work was available they would again be given a chance. The management can hardly say that they were not available, because these unemployed people must have been haunting the precincts of the mill during that time.

In the face of these facts one finds it difficult to escape from the conclusion that the case for the management suffers by comparison, and that the interpretation put by the workers on the company's action is more consistent with reason. By this I do not wish to imply that the Manager was personally interested in this matter, but I suspect that the subordinate staff painted the situation in a manner that led him to believe that the men would cause trouble if they were not summarily dismissed. That was the Manager's belief is borne out by his requisition for police help (evidence of Mr. Murshedi); though his fear turned out to be unfounded.

It was contended that in view of the company's right to discharge its employees without assigning any reason, the questions raised by these issues do not arise. There is no dispute that under the existing terms of the contract the company is at liberty to dismiss any employee with a week's notice or wages in lieu thereof. But the question for decision here is not whether the company has or has not such a right, but whether the dismissals were justified, that is to say, whether there was any just or reasonable cause for dispensing with the services of these men. Mr. Kitching urged the Court not to consider the morality of the dismissals, as that would necessarily involve one in a consideration of the ethical basis of contracts, which is clearly outside the scope of the present enquiry. While realising the wisdom of this observation, I feel that Government would not be transgressing the limits of its power if it attempted to see that the employer exercised this right consistent with the principles of equity, and to secure to the employee justice and fair-play.

On these grounds I hold that the dismissals on 5th February 1940 were without just and reasonable cause, and that the reason for the company's reluctance to engage the discharged men is to be sought in the management's belief that the malcontents would foment trouble.

6. Dismissal of Jagat on 22nd February 1940.

This man had been a bale-carrier in the Jute Department for 16 or 17 years. His allegation is that he was dismissed the day after the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February 1940, because he had advised some of the workers to go up to the officer and tell him that the new men recruited after the dismissal of Dwarika and others had not been produced before him. He says that the Babus noticed this and reported to the overseer, who took his ticket and told him to go. He appealed to the Manager without success. The company's case is that he was dismissed for inciting workers to strike, and for being insolent to the Manager.

There is no evidence that Jagat ever incited any employee of the company to strike. Mr. Wilkie himself could not recall any particular instance. He probably acted on the information of the clerks or sirdars when he called Jagat to reprimand him for his conduct. At the same time in the face of the Manager's evidence it is not at all unlikely that Jagat did behave towards him in an unbecoming manner. Jagat stoutly denied this but I cannot accept his word against that of the Manager. Therefore though I think that the authorities were justified in taking disciplinary action against Jagat, I feel that this was a case where mercy could have tempered justice. The punishment seemed unnecessarily severe and was perhaps inspired more by suspicion of Jagat's subversive activities than by his insolent conduct.

7. Dismissal of Khalil and other weavers on 27th November 1939.

The trouble with the weavers had its origin in the petition submitted sometime in August 1939, by Khalil and about 30 others to the Manager making allegations of bribery and corruption against one Krim Sardar. The Manager referred the matter to the Departmental Overseer Mr. Craig for confidential enquiry. In the meantime the men approached the Bengal National Jute Workers' Union who held an enquiry of their own. Then on 4th October Khalil says that Mr. Craig visited him several times which was very unusual, and so getting nervous he put in for eight weeks' leave. According to him his leave was granted, but that when he went to get his leave pass the overseer told him that as he was an old hand no pass was necessary. The case of the management on the other hand is that Khalil was dismissed for insubordination, disregard of discipline and causing trouble in the mill. As regards Jalil, Bechu, Nabi Muhammad, Sadeque and Abdul Satar, the written statement of the company says that they were also dismissed on the same ground. Jalil, Nabi Muhammad and Sadeque who deposed in court, stated that they were dismissed on 27th November 1939 for no reason at all, that they did not create any disturbance at the mill or abuse any officer, nor were they told why they were being sent away.

I shall now consider whether the facts bear out the company's allegation, or support the case of the workers. The Assistant Labour Commissioner, Mr. Murshedi stated that at the time of his enquiry on 12th December 1939 the Manager told him that Khalil, Jalil, Nabi, Bechu, Sadeque and Sattar were dismissed for attempting to stop the men from entering the factory at 12-45 p.m. on 5th October 1939. It was also represented to him that about 300 men had collected and Khalil threatened and abused the Manager and harangued the men to go on strike. In the first place, there is disagreement between Mr. Craig and Mr. Wilkie as to who actually dismissed the six men. Mr. Craig seems to think that he dismissed them, whereas Mr. Wilkie says that he dismissed Khalil, but not the others. Secondly, neither of these gentlemen could give any definite instance of insubordination, or breach of discipline, or any attempt to incite the workers to strike on the part of these men, though they assert that Khalil and his followers were making trouble. Mr. Craig in cross-examination said that during the weeks prior to his dismissal Khalil was insubordinate and incited other workers not to work. This knowledge, however, he admitted, was not first-hand, and had been gathered apparently from other people in the mill. He also says that though there was no breach of discipline amongst the workers, "he felt that he was not getting the same amount of respect and a tension of feeling was noticed". He even admits that he never saw Khalil talking to the weavers. According to him there was no deterioration in the quantity or quality of the work of the weavers, and he is forced to admit that he cannot say why Jalil, Bechu, Nabi, Sadeque and Sattar were dismissed on 27th November 1939. Therefore so far as Mr. Craig is concerned, he has no knowledge as to the particular reason which led to the dismissal of the weavers except Khalil, and even against him he cannot cite any particular instance of insubordination, beyond a vague declaration that all was not well with the workers. Mr. Wilkie, on the other hand, says that except Khalil the other weavers were dismissed by Mr. Craig, though he was within sight of Mr. Craig at the time. As regards Khalil he confesses that the only instance he can think of about Khalil's inciting the men was at about 1 p.m. on 4th October when Khalil came forward to address him but could not do so as he went inside the mill. Beyond this he does not mention any instance of insubordination or indiscipline. Mr. Wilkie says in cross-examination, "Except the incident on the 4th October at 12-40 p.m. I did not notice any sign of Khalil's attempt to incite the workers. I did not actually hear at any time Khalil advising the men not to work. In dismissing him I only acted on hearsay and was solely guided by my feelings". From this it is clear that the manager, in dismissing these six men acted purely on suspicion and on confidential enquiries. If Bechu, Nabi, Sadeque, Sattar and Jalil were supporters of Khalil and were bent on making trouble, it is strange that they kept quiet and made no demonstration at all at the time of Khalil's dismissal.

In this state of the evidence I have no other alternative but to hold that the company have failed to explain to any degree of satisfaction the reasons which led them to discharge these six men. One is tempted to agree with the contention of the workers that they were dismissed not so much for any supposed breach of discipline as for the purpose of maintaining a balance of power after the dismissal of Karim.

8. Dismissal of workers on 20th November 1939.

The dismissal of these men were also connected with Khalil's complaint, as they were the first batch selected for discharge after Khalil. Of the dismissed men Raozan, Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan, Bisnath and Nasir were examined in court. Nasir's case stands on a different footing from the others and will be dealt with separately. The evidence of these men is that at the time of their dismissal, they were given the impression that they were being discharged for bad work.

At the outset, it should be noted that the position taken by the company before the court is different from the one adopted by the management during the preliminary enquiries of the Labour Commissioner and Assistant Labour Commissioner. During the Assistant Labour Commissioner's enquiry on 12th December 1939 the Manager's case was that all these men had been suspended for bad work, but in the written statement filed in court the Manager gives low production as being the reason for the suspension of Bhagan, Yusuf, Zakir and Wali Mohammad, but as regards Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir, he says that they were dismissed for insubordination, disregard of discipline and causing trouble in the mill. As I pointed out in the case of the men dismissed on 27th November 1939, the company has not adhered to the explanation originally given to the Labour Commissioner as to the cause of dismissal. At first the Manager told the Assistant Labour Commissioner that all these seven men were suspended for bad work and would be reinstated later. Then on 5th February 1940 the Managing Agents wrote to the Labour Commissioner that the facts of the case were not as represented by him, and that only Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan and Wali Mohammad had been suspended, while others had been dismissed for misconduct and breach of discipline. Thus Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir were classed with Khalil and others after the Manager had distinctly assured the Assistant Labour Commissioner that they had been temporarily suspended. As in the case of Khalil Mr. Wilkie is not in a position to give any specific instance of insubordination or indiscipline on the part of Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir. He says that they were dismissed by Mr. Craig, whereas the latter cannot assign any reason for their dismissal.

As regards Nasir the Manager said that Nasir was discharged for going away on leave without submitting a medical certificate, whereas in the written statement Nasir is classed with Raozan, Biswanath and Khalil who were dismissed for insubordination. Nasir explained that when he wanted leave on 9th October 1939 he was not given a leave-pass because he did not produce the mill doctor's certificate. Nasir says that he went to the doctor but could not find him and so left the mill and came back with another medical certificate on 22nd October 1939. The Manager probably thought that this was only an excuse for malingering, and he was accordingly discharged on 9th October 1939. It is difficult to say whether Nasir actually went to the doctor or not. However, there is no ground for dispute that Nasir did ask for leave and did not produce the mill doctor's certificate in support of his application. Very likely the management was not anxious to retain his services, but the reason is not clear. The Manager's case in the written statement is different from his evidence in court, and therefore it seems to me that Nasir's application for leave was seized as a convenient excuse for getting rid of him. That is why probably the company, while promising to take back Zakir, Yusuf and Bhagan, omitted the name of Nasir.

There remains the case of Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan and Wali Muhammad. The last named is already in the mill's employ and the question of his dismissal does not arise. Regarding the others, Mr. Wilkie's case in the written statement is in conflict with the evidence of Mr. Craig. While the Manager thinks that these men were suspended for low production, Mr. Craig who is the departmental overseer and ought to be in a better position to judge, says that "there was no deterioration in the quantity or quality of work of these men". In the face of this admission I think the explanation in the written statement is untenable.

It will be evident that the management in dispensing with the services of the men on 20th November 1939 proceeded merely on suspicion and hearsay. Not a single witness, nor indeed the Manager or the overseer, is in a position to say that he actually saw any of these men talking to a weaver or inciting him to create disturbance, or commit any breach of discipline or insubordination. While admitting the great responsibility resting on the Manager to control the staff, I maintain that the responsibility which the employer owes to the employee is no less great; it is the responsibility to see that a man is not subjected to injustice and that he gets a hearing before any punishment is meted out to him.

Conclusion.

This investigation has emphasized certain unlovely features in the relations of capital and labour. It will be apparent that the dispute arose mainly from the absence of well defined conditions of service in the jute mills. Had there been properly formulated rules to guide the authorities there could not have occurred the impasse, necessitating the appointment of a Court of Enquiry. In my opinion the worker's greatest need now is permanency of service and security from arbitrary dismissal. The summary discharge of the men with a week's wages and without any substantial reason has shown the insecurity of their service, and their inability to obtain redress when injustice does occur. I therefore think that the right of the employer to dismiss an employee without assigning any reason needs considerable modification. An employer should not dismiss an employee without specific causes. The latter should always be given an opportunity to be heard, and there should be provision for appeal to a higher authority.

The difficulties in the present case were accentuated by the distrust felt by the company of all trade union activities. We have seen how workers who sought the aid of union leaders, were immediately suspect. With a little more sympathy and understanding I feel sure the management would have succeeded in conciliating their discontented men. After all a revolutionary is not born but is made, and the surest way to eliminate discontent is to view with patience the cause of the disaffected.

Before I conclude I must express my gratitude to the representatives of both parties for the help they gave me in the enquiry. My thanks are especially due to the Manager, Mr. Wilkie, for his unfailing courtesy and his readiness to place all records and other information at the disposal of the court whenever required.

PART VI

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. F

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows:— V of 1898.

Short title,
extent and

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1940.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such day, as the Governor General in Council so directs.

Amendment of
on 4,
V of 1898.

2. In clause (r) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898,— V of 1898.

(1) the figure and brackets "(1)" occurring before the words "an advocate" shall be omitted;

(2) the words, figure and brackets "and (2) any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding" shall be omitted; and

(3) for the comma occurring after the word "authorised" a full stop shall be substituted.

*The Governor General has been pleased to accord the previous sanction required by section 119(1) of the Government of India Act, 1935.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

(1) The piece of enactment sought to be repealed which allows private unqualified people to appear and act in a criminal case with the permission of the Court was enacted when qualified pleaders were not easily available and could be engaged only at a heavy cost. At present there is no dearth of pleaders. This provision of law has, therefore, outlived its object.

(2) This enactment is against the spirit and letter of the Legal Practitioners Act.

(3) The discretion vested in the magistrates is responsible for creation of many an objectionable man enjoying the patronage of the magistrates.

(4) There is no enactment to checkmate the demeanour of these men. It is anomalous that these "half-educated" persons owe no responsibility to any one, whereas highly qualified advocates have to abide by the rules of High Courts and the provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act.

(5) These persons were originally allowed to appear on the grounds of preventing a possible miscarriage of justice, but the remedy is now worse than the evil sought to be remedied.

(6) In practice the engagement of such men is more costly than that of properly qualified men as they know how to extort exorbitant fees on pretences more than one.

(7) Members of the Bar whose field is now overcrowded are at a great disadvantage by their existence and their unscrupulous methods of getting themselves engaged.

It is compromising the dignity of the Bar to allow such men to appear and oppose qualified members of the Bar. It is high time that the existing provision be deleted from the Code.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 45 of 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as V of 1898. follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1940.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such day as the Governor General in Council so directs.

Amendment of section 250,
Act V of 1898.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the words "by a Magistrate of the second or third class to pay compensation or has been so ordered by any other Magistrate to pay compensation exceeding fifty rupees" the words "by any Magistrate to pay compensation" shall be substituted. V of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 250, sub-section (3), an order of compensation is appealable when it exceeds Rs. 50. The result is that some Magistrates on purpose inflict a fine of Rs. 50 or less in order that the order may not be appealed against. It is true that a revision application could be filed against such an order, but a revision application involves a cumbrous procedure. High Courts are usually unwilling to entertain revision applications directly. They wish the applicant to first approach the Sessions Court or the District Magistrate to make a recommendation to them for revision of the order under section 438, Criminal Procedure Code. The hearing of the revision application in the High Court ordinarily takes any time from 3 to 6 months after a report from Sessions Court. It also involves the aggrieved party in a lot of expenditure in having to engage counsel for two Courts and also in having to go to the seat of the High Court to prosecute the application.

High Courts are also full up with criminal and civil work as is apparent from the fact that every High Court gets additional Judges appointed in addition to the sanctioned strength. The powers of High Courts in revision are absolutely discretionary and are exercised sparingly whereas the appellate powers of every appeal Court are in actual practice more freely exercised. Times have changed and there is no reason why a person aggrieved of compensation of Rs. 50 or less should have no right of appeal.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 46 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872; It is hereby enacted as follow:— I of 1872.

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Evidence (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the day it is passed.

Amendment of
section 24,
Act I of 1872.

2. In section 24 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 I of 1872, (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the word "Confession", wherever it occurs, the words "or statement" shall be inserted.

Amendment of
section 25,
Act I of 1872.

3. In section 25 of the said Act,—

(a) after the word "Confession" the words "or statement" shall be inserted; and

(b) for the word "to" the word "before" shall be substituted.

Amendment of
section 26,
Act I of 1872.

4. In section 26 of the said Act, after the word "confession" the words "or statement" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The word "Confession" is not defined in the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, but the judicial view is that a confession is an admission made at any time by a person charged with a crime stating or suggesting the inference that he committed the same. There is a distinction between an admission and a confession, which, however, as it does not contain a definition of the word confession, does not itself declare in what that distinction exists. The nature of the distinction attempted to be made by the Courts is often very subtle, complicated and conflicting. Statement which is intended to be self-exculpatory may nevertheless be an admission of an incriminating circumstance. When in a prosecution for a crime, the prosecutor relies upon the statement of the accused before the police on the ground of it being an exculpatory one, for the purpose of proving his guilt, it presumably suggests an inference of guilt. A misuse of such a statement for contradicting the accused's defence version at the trial is not unoften made. To remove such an abuse and the loophole, owing to there being no statutory definition of the word "confession", anything stated to the police by an accused person, unless it comes under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, should be excluded.

2. Confession to a private person in the presence of a police officer is sometimes being used, as the words "to a Police Officer" in section 25 of the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, are confounding. To remove that doubt the word "to" in the section should be substituted by the word "before".

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL NO. 54 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877 for a certain purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Specific Relief (Amendment) Act, 193 .

Amendment of sections 45 to 51, Act I of 1877.

2. In section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 I of 1877. (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

- (a) after the words "Any of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay and Rangoon" the words "and the Court of the Judicial Commissioner in Sind" be added;
- (b) for the words "within the local limits of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction" the words "within limits of its appellate civil jurisdiction" shall be substituted;
- (c) in other clauses of section 45 and in sections 46 to 51 wherever the word "High" appears the word "Such" be substituted;
- (d) in clause (f) of the proviso, for the words occurring after the words "On the Governor General in Council" the words "or the Governor General of any Governor's Province in India" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 48, Act I of 1877.

3. In section 48 of the said Act, for the word "ordinary" the word "appellate" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In view of the growing importance of Sind necessity of the exercise of power contained in section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, by the highest Court in Sind has been authoritatively declared. Cases often occur in Sind calling for the issue of Writs of the nature of Mandamus. The public opinion is strongly in favour of the power of the nature contained in section 45 being invested in the Judicial Commissioner of Sind's Court which has been exercising ordinary powers of a High Court.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 55 OF 1940.

A Bill to provide for Judicial Separation and Divorce amongst the Hindus.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for judicial separation and divorce amongst the Hindus under certain circumstances;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Judicial Separation and Divorce Act, 194 .
- (2) It shall apply to the whole of British India.
- (3) It shall come into force on the....day of..... 194....

Grounds for claiming separate residence by wife or husband.

2. Notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, a Hindu wife or husband shall be entitled to claim separate residence from the married partner, and may bring a suit for the same in a court of law on one or more of the following grounds, viz.:

- (1) if the husband or wife is suffering from any loathsome disease, leprosy, venereal disease;
- (2) if the husband or wife is an incurable lunatic;
- (3) if the husband or wife turns a recluse or changes religion;
- (4) if the husband or wife commits adultery.

Grounds for claiming separate residence and maintenance by wife.

3. A wife may claim separate residence and maintenance from her husband—
- (1) if the husband marries again;
- (2) if the husband is guilty of cruelty towards her;
- (3) if the husband deserts her.

Jurisdiction.

4. Every suit under this Act shall be instituted in the civil court within whose jurisdiction the wife ordinarily resides.

Maintenance.

5. The amount of maintenance given by the court shall not be less than one-fifth of the income of the husband.

Custody of the children.

6. The custody, maintenance and education of the children shall be as the courts may decide.

Divorce.

7. The court may grant a decree of dissolution of marriage two years after the decree of judicial separation.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The institution of marriage "as interpreted and practised today amongst the Hindus is very unfair to the wife and gives all the advantages to the husband.

The conscience of the Hindu community is very much stirred against this injustice to Hindu wives, as was seen in the recent discussion on the Bill to give Hindu women the right to divorce, and the public opinion collected on the Bill.

The present Bill removes some of the inequalities and puts the institution of Hindu marriage on a more natural and healthy basis.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 56 OF 1940.

A Bill to give Hindu married women a right to separate residence and maintenance under certain circumstances.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for separate residence and maintenance under certain circumstances in the case of married Hindu women;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Married Women's Right to Separate Residence and Maintenance Act, 194 .

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the day of 194 .

Grounds for claiming separate residence and
maintenance.

2. Notwithstanding any custom or law to the contrary a married Hindu woman shall be entitled to claim separate residence and maintenance from her husband on one or more of the following grounds, viz.—

(1) If the husband is suffering from leprosy, or any loathsome disease;

(2) If the husband is suffering from venereal disease;

(3) If the husband is an incurable lunatic;

(4) If the husband is guilty of cruelty towards her;

(5) If the husband is a habitual drunkard;

(6) If the husband is a habitual gambler;

(7) If the husband is a habitual idler or changes his religion.

Jurisdiction.

3. Every suit under this Act shall be instituted in the civil court within whose jurisdiction the husband and wife ordinarily reside.

Amount of maintenance.

4. The amount of maintenance given by the courts to the wife shall not be less than one-fifth of the income of the husband.

Custody
children.

5. The custody, maintenance and education of the children shall be as the courts decide.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. Even with regard to elementary rights of human beings, the position of a Hindu married woman is deplorable. This Bill intends to give her the right of separate residence and maintenance under unbearable conditions.

2. As to giving a Hindu wife the right of divorce there might be some slight difference of opinion in the Central Assembly, but as regards the right to give her separate residence and maintenance under certain inhuman conditions there was no difference of opinion. The House was unanimous in giving a Hindu wife this right. Accordingly a Committee was appointed by the Central Assembly, but unfortunately the Committee could not meet.

3. The Bill merely proposes to carry out what was unanimously agreed to in the Central Assembly.

eliciting opinion thereon, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto. Written expressions of opinion by any person or public body should be sent so as to reach the Judicial Department of the Government of Bengal not later than the 15th February 1941. [As introduced in the Council of State.]

TO

Amend the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908, for a certain purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Indian Limitation (Amendment) Act, 1940.

2. In section 20, sub-section (1), omit the words "as such" occurring after the word "paid".

3. Payments of interest or principal made before this Act and acknowledgment thereof appearing in the manner prescribed by the proviso to section 20 shall save limitation as if the words "as such" were never enacted in the section.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Rama Shah vs. Lal Chand, reported in A. I. R. 1940, P. C. 63, which places a strict interpretation on the words of section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, has created considerable hardship. Endorsements of payments made by debtors towards a debt do not in all cases specify whether the payment is made towards interest as such or part of the principal. In practice, debtors also do not specify at the time of making payment whether the payment is made towards interest or principal. In many cases, the payments are made towards the debt or legacy due, and the mode of appropriation is left either to the creditor or is regulated in accordance with the course of business between the parties. If the decision of the Privy Council is allowed to stand, several promissory notes and bonds on which endorsements are made without specifying that the payment is made towards interest as such or principal would be held by courts to have become time-barred. It is, therefore, necessary to amend section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act in such a way as to give effect to the intention of the Legislature that a payment made towards a debt will have the effect of saving limitation, for all payments are intended to go either towards principal or interest or partly towards the one and partly towards the other, whether the endorsements so specify or not, provided the acknowledgment of payment appears in the handwriting of, or in a writing signed by, the person making the payment. But in order to save endorsements of payments made before the passing of this Act, it is necessary to give retrospective effect to this Act, and provision is accordingly made that the section shall be so read as the words "as such" never existed in the section.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In varying degrees in the markets in Bengal buyers and sellers, and in particular cultivators selling their produce, are subject to disadvantages and malpractices amongst which the following are the most prevalent:—

- (i) Market charges and allowances levied by the owners of markets and by dealers are numerous and often excessive.
- (ii) Weights and measures are of different kinds and this affords scope for cheating and unfair dealing.
- (iii) In many markets there is inadequate provision for shelter, conservancy, water-supply, sanitation, drainage, and general accommodation.
- (iv) Reliable information as to prices, and other marketing information is not usually available.
- (v) Unjustified discounts and deductions are often made.
- (vi) Persons frequenting the markets are liable to be victimised by the levy of tolls of various kinds by unauthorised persons.
- (vii) Produce is subject to the immediate operation of the market which operates to the disadvantage of the buyer in that he is not able to select his produce. It also operates to the disadvantage of the cultivator in that he cannot get the best price for the best quality of produce.

2. The object of the Bill is to secure better conditions in the markets for the public generally and to protect buyers and sellers, in particular cultivators selling their produce, from unjustified exactions and other malpractices which prevail.

3. The Bill accordingly provides for—

- (i) the fixing of the kinds of market charges and fees which may be levied by the proprietors of markets and the rates at which they may be levied ;
- (ii) the maintenance of sets of standard weights and measures in the markets against which weighment and measurements may be checked ;
- (iii) requiring the proprietor of a market to provide adequate shelter, conservancy, water-supply, sanitation, drainage, etc., having regard to local conditions and the income derived from the markets ;
- (iv) publication of reliable information as to prices and other marketing information ;
- (v) prohibition of "trade allowances" and other deductions other than those which may be prescribed as permissible ;
- (vi) prevention of victimisation of persons by the levy of various tolls by unauthorised persons ;
- (vii) the conduct of transactions in agricultural produce according to standard grades and definitions of quality so that buyers may be protected against mixing and adulteration and that sellers will be able to dispose of their produce at values in accordance with its quality.

For rule 45B of the said rules, the following shall be substituted:—

“45B. Levy of grazing tax.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this rule cattle (oxen and cows), buffaloes, goats and goyals owned or kept or grazed in the Chittagong Hill-tracts are all liable to be assessed to grazing tax.

(2) Grazing tax shall be assessed at the rates determined by the Deputy Commissioner with the approval of the Commissioner.

(3) Hillmen who cultivate no land shall be liable to pay grazing tax for the cattle, buffaloes, goats and goyals owned or kept by them, but each resident family shall be allowed free of grazing tax four cattle, two unweaned calves and two goats or in the alternative two goyals or buffaloes, one unweaned goyal or buffalo calf and two goats. If any hillman keeps both cattle, goyals and buffaloes then one goyal or buffalo should be treated as equivalent to two head of cattle, and one goyal or buffalo calf as equivalent to two calves, for the purpose of calculating exemption and grazing tax payable.

(4) A hillman or resident plainsman who cultivates not less than 0·4 acre of land is entitled, in addition to the exemption specified in sub-rule (3), to keep free of tax the following:—

If he cultivates less than 2 acres of land—two cattle or one buffalo.

(9) Grazing tax shall be collected from bazar residents by bazar chaudhuries and from other persons by headmen. They shall grant printed receipts at the time of collection and enter the amounts in a cash book. As a partial exception exempted cattle, goyals, buffaloes or goats may be grazed not only in the mauzas where the cultivator holds lands, but also in the mauza where he lives even if he has no land in that mauza.

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 558I.A.—4th February 1941.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 28th November, 1940, have the honour to submit this our final report on the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Matter recommended to be omitted by the Select Committee has been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matter recommended to be inserted has been underlined.

2. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th November, 1940, before introduction.

3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered by our recommendations as to require republication.

4. The Committee met for the first time on the 11th December, 1940, and then again on the 13th and 14th December, 1940, when they concluded their deliberations on the Bill.

5. The reasons for the changes made in the Bill, apart from purely formal alterations, are as follows:—

Clause 2.

Sub-clause (b).—The definition of motor spirit has been revised primarily to exclude deisel oil from the purview of this Bill.

Sub-clause (c).—It was deleted as unnecessary in view of the amended definition of motor spirit in (b).

Sub-clauses (e) and (f).—The amendments here are of a purely drafting nature.

Sub-clause (g).—The amendment is aimed at making the intention clear.

Clause 3.

Apart from purely drafting changes the alterations here are consequential on the modified definition of motor spirit in Clause 2.

Clause 4.

New sub-clause (1A).—The explanation to sub-clause (1) has been renumbered as sub-clause (1A). We have also amended this sub-clause exempting the importer or whole-sale dealer from taking more than one licence although he may have more than one place of business, his position being obviously different from that of a retail dealer.

Sub-clause (3).—This has been omitted as unnecessary in view of the revised sub-clause (6) as recommended by us.

Sub-clause (5).—The proviso has been deleted as we considered the provision for any deposit of security unnecessary in view of the safeguards in other clauses of the Bill.

Sub-clause (6).—The intention of this amendment is to avoid unnecessary restriction on the dealer while he continues to pay taxes on petrol consumed or otherwise disposed of by himself.

Sub-clause (7).—We have considered it desirable to amend the clause requiring the Government to prescribe the limits within which the powers under this clause have to be exercised. (a) has been expanded with a view to generalise the provision and (c) has been deleted consequently.

Clause 7.

Substitution of the words "Land Revenue" for the words "Public Demand" has been made in order to make the All-India Act I of 1890 applicable.

Clause 8.

We did not think any particular form necessary for the keeping of the accounts by the importer or whole-sale dealer. We were also of opinion that quarterly returns by whole-sale dealers and importers would serve the purpose of this Act. (a) has been deleted and the clause amended accordingly. The words "in Bengal" have been inserted as it is not possible to check figures relating to places outside Bengal. Other alterations in the clause are of a consequential nature.

New clause 8A.

This new clause has been considered necessary to provide for cases of transfers of business by sale or succession.

Clause 9.

The alteration here has been intended for the convenience of the dealers.

New clause 9A.

This new clause has been inserted to preserve secrecy about internal affairs of business which was considered desirable in the interest of traders. The Provincial Government have, however, been empowered to sanction any disclosure which might be necessary under exceptional circumstances.

Clause 10.

New sub-clause (aa).—This has been inserted consequentially.

Clauses 11 and 12.

Clause 11 has been deleted as clause 12 was suitably amended to cover the entire provision in the clauses.

Clause 14.

Sub-clause (1).—This has been introduced as a safeguard against indiscriminate prosecution.

Clause 17.

The clause was deleted as we considered the existing law of limitation adequate for the cases contemplated and no special limitation was necessary or desirable.

Clause 19.

The amendments here have been necessitated by the amendments in the previous clauses of the Bill.

Assembly.*

*Signed subject to a minute of dissent, annexed.

NOTE.—Signatures of Mr. Mia Abdul Hafiz, Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmed, Mr. Birat Chandra Mandal and Mr. Syed Ahmed Khan, M.L. A's., could not be obtained till the time of printing this report.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. J. F. Sinclair, M.L.A.

While I reserve to myself the right to suggest any amendments I may think fit when the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, comes before the Assembly I sign the report subject to the following Minute of Dissent:—

1. I consider that a clause should be embodied in the Bill ensuring that the revenue collected by this taxation is used only for road construction, as is shown to be, the intention in the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

2. Since the balance in the Road Fund Account is not likely to be exhausted until 1942, I consider that this Bill should not be brought into effective operation till April, 1942.

Addendum to the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941.

At page 2 of the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941, after the name of Mr. J. F. Sinclair please add the name of Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmed who signed the report after it was printed.

A. AHMAD,

for Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Dacca, the 3rd February 1941.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1938-39, averaged (a) 44·4 and (b) 8·4 respectively.)

Explanatory.—Four forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The present forecast deals only with the estimated area sown and the general condition of the crop in the early stages.

Acreage.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total area sown is 169,600 acres this year as against 175,000 and 177,100 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—The sowings took place in normal time this year. Prolonged drought delayed later sowings and affected the growth of the crop in many parts of the province. The present condition is generally reported to be poor except in some districts.

M. CARBERY,

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

45. Subject to the special provisions of this Part, the provisions of Parts III and IV of these rules shall apply to the presentation, notices and hearing of a Reference Application as if it were an appeal:

Provided that an authorised representative need not comply with the provisions of rule 26 if he has already filed his authority and its acceptance in the appeal which gives rise to the application.

The reply shall be accompanied by a copy thereof.

55. On the day fixed for the hearing of the application or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the Bench shall, after perusing the application, the reply and the record, try to obtain from the parties an agreed statement of facts and the question involved.

56. If the parties agree to the question, the Bench shall consider whether such question does in fact arise out of the appellate order or not and whether the question is one of law or not.

57. If the Bench considers that the question agreed upon by the parties is a question of law and does arise out of the appellate order, the Bench shall draw up a statement of the case and together with the records send it to the headquarters of the Tribunal.

58. Where the parties are not agreed, the Bench shall decide whether the question formulated by the applicant does arise out of the appellate order and whether it is a question of law. If the Bench decides that the question formulated by the applicant does arise and is a question of law, it shall draw up a statement of the case and together with the records send it to the headquarters of the Tribunal.

PART IV A

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 599L.A.—6th February 1941.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 2nd December, 1940, have the honour to submit this our final report on the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us annexed. Matter recommended to be omitted by the Select Committee has been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matter recommended to be inserted has been underlined.

2. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th November, 1940, before introduction.

3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered by our recommendations as to require re-publication.

4. The Committee met for the first time on the 10th December, 1940, and thereafter from time to time till the 20th December, 1940, when they concluded their deliberations on the Bill.

5. The reasons for the changes made in the Bill apart from purely formal and consequential alterations are as follows:—

Clause 2.

(b) The definition of “contractor” has been replaced by one of “contract” for the purpose of making the intention clear.

(c) This has been omitted as unnecessary.

(d) The insertion of the word “supplying” has been meant to cover cases of order suppliers who do not actually effect the sale but arrange for supply. The deletion of the words “and includes a contractor” is consequential.

(e) The insertion of “fitting out” is consequential. The lines at the end were deleted as unnecessary.

(h) The original explanation (2) has been deleted as superfluous in view of the amendment to clause 4 of the Bill. The explanation (2) has been added by us for the purpose of avoiding possibility of evasion of tax by entering into contract of sale outside the province.

(i) The old definition has been recast and expanded. (b) has been necessitated by the new definition of contract. The power of Government provided in the original proviso to clause 5(1) has also been embodied in this sub-clause as a more appropriate place for its inclusion.

(k) The original definition of year has been altered for the convenience of dealers.

Clause 3.

The alteration in sub-clause (1) is of a drafting nature.

Clause 4.

Sub-clause (1).—The addition here is of a drafting nature, the original proviso being absorbed in the sub-clause.

The new proviso has been considered necessary by us mainly in the interest of the dealers.

Sub-clauses (2) and (4).—The amendments are consequential on the definition of “year” recommended by us.

Sub-clause (5).—We have considered it desirable to make specific provision in relation to importers and manufacturers and to lower the taxable quantum to Rs. 10,000 in their cases and raise the taxable quantum in relation to all other cases to Rs. 50,000. We have, however, thought it expedient to empower Government to take into consideration any special circumstances justifying any variation of the "taxable quantum" in relation to any particular class of dealers and prescribe such quantum as may appear to them to be fair and equitable. The old sub-clause has been deleted and the new sub-clause inserted accordingly.

Clause 5.

Sub-clause (1).—As "two percentum on the taxable turnover" was considered rather high we have recommended reduction of the rate to a quarter anna in the rupee on such turnover.

Sub-clause (2).—This has been omitted by us as we did not consider any variation in the rates of tax by rules advisable.

Sub-clause (3).—We have slightly modified (b) for the purpose of exemption of all articles used in the manufacture of goods and also of containers and packing materials sold to registered dealers for packing of goods sold by them.

The original (c) has been deleted as unnecessary.

The new (c) and (cc).—The exemptions contemplated in these have been considered necessary on grounds of public interest.

(d) The slight alteration here is intended for making the purpose unambiguous.

Clause 6.

Sub-clause (2).—While we had no objection to add to the schedule we did not think it advisable to permit any reduction in the items adjusted after mature deliberation, except through legislation. The sub-clause has been amended with this end in view.

Clause 7.

Sub-clause (4).—We found no reason why the Commissioner should not exercise his power under this sub-clause on any satisfactory information available to him instead of depending merely on the information recorded under section 14. We have therefore recommended that the Commissioner might act on any reliable material available to him.

Sub-clause (5).—We have made it obligatory on the Commissioner to register a dealer and grant him a certificate under this section.

Sub-clauses (6) and (7).—We have omitted the old sub-clause (6) and the provisos thereto, as we do not recommend issue of certificates for limited periods and periodical renewal thereof. We have, however, specified the conditions in the redrafted sub-clause (6) under which a registration must be cancelled.

New clause 7A.

Here we have made provision for voluntary registration of dealers with comparatively lower turnover and for the cancellation of such registration.

New clause 7B.

For the convenience of everybody concerned we have thought it desirable to give publicity to the details of registration of dealers under this Act and we have also recommended annual publication of modifications thereof for the information of all interested parties.

Clause 8.

Sub-clause (2).—In our opinion the Commissioner would be the right person to issue the notices for returns. “Commissioner” has, therefore, been substituted for “Provincial Government”.

Clause 9.

Part of the old sub-clause (1) has been recast as new sub-clause (1) with some necessary alterations consequential on amendments to clause 4. In the new sub-clause (1A) we have thought it expedient to give the Commissioner wider powers against deliberate evasion and have also given him discretionary power to penalise the offenders. New sub-clause (1B) is the latter part of the old sub-clause (1) with consequential amendments in a redrafted form.

Sub-clause (2).—We have altered the words “a public demand” to “land revenue” to make the all-India Act I of 1890 applicable.

Clause 10.

The old clause has been redrafted with amendments consequential on the new proviso to clause 4(1).

Clause 12.

Sub-clause (1).—The additions here have been made as a desirable safeguard against the risk of arbitrary action by the Commissioner.

Sub-clause (3).—We have considered these amendments desirable in the interest of, and for the purpose of avoiding any inconvenience to, the dealers.

Clause 13.

The amendment here is consequential on the amendment in clause 3.

Clause 16.

(c) The amendment is of a drafting nature.

(d) has been considered by us to be a very necessary item for decision by the Commissioner.

The proviso has been inserted to avoid retrospective taxation except in cases of deliberate evasion.

Clause 17.

The old clause has been redrafted with alterations consequential on the amendments in clause 3 and the new clause 18A.

Clause 18.

The amendments in this clause are of a drafting nature and consequential on amendments in clause 3.

New clause 18A.

This new clause has been inserted by us to enable a party aggrieved by the order of the Board of Revenue to go to the High Court for the final determination of any question of law. The provisions regarding fees and costs have been made as a check against frivolous applications.

Clause 19.

Sub-clause (1)(c).—The slight alteration is of a drafting nature.

(cc) has been considered necessary as a natural corollary to (c).

We have considered a fine of Rs. 1,000 adequate for offences under this section and have reduced the amount in the original provision accordingly.

Clause 20.

Consistently with the amendment in clause 19 we have considered Rs. 1,000 as sufficient for the purpose of composition of offences contemplated by the sub-clause.

Clause 22.

Sub-clause 3(b) has been deleted as uncalled for.

Clause 23.

All the amendments in this clause except where they are of a drafting nature are consequential on the amendments in the other clauses of the Bill.

The Schedule.

The entire Schedule has been revised by us. In doing so we have kept in mind the exclusion of all saleable articles which are already liable to taxation under special Acts in this Province and also of necessary articles of food usually consumed by persons of moderate means.

NOTE (1).—Signature of Mr. W. G. Patten could not be obtained till the time of printing this report.

NOTE (2).—Khan Bahadur Mahabubuddin Ahmad since died.

Minute of dissent by Mr. H. R. Norton, M.B.E., M.L.A.

Clause 5, sub-clause D.—I do not agree with exemption allowed. I consider that all purchases made by permanent residents outside Bengal should be exempt—I reserve the right to move an amendment.

Clause 5(3).—I do not agree with the so-called "Taxable Turnover" as this includes the tax collected from the purchasers, and means that the seller will have to pay a tax on this amount as well as his net turnover—here again I reserve the right to move an amendment.

Rate of Tax.—I am not satisfied that Government has made out a case strong enough to warrant a tax of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. being imposed, and in my opinion 1 per cent. should be the limit, until it is ascertained what revenue has been secured during the first year of operation.

Further, I reserve the right to move any amendment that I consider proper.

Joint minute of dissent by Mr. Gyasuddin Ahmed Choudhury, M.L.A., and Mr. Ahmed Ali Mridha, M.L.A.

Economic depression is so acute in the countryside that we cannot conceive of the propriety of a general taxation unless it is exclusively for the benefit of the rural mass in measures which cannot wait.

To bring about budgetary equilibrium such a measure cannot be undertaken before very drastic steps are taken by cuts in expenditure in all spheres.

* * * * *

Illiteracy is a curse; people in rural area are dying out; water scarcity is appalling. Our support is with this measure if only the income from it is utilized exclusively for the following purposes in the order given below:—

- (a) Primary Education.
- (b) Rural Medical Relief.
- (c) Rural Water-supply.

With these remarks we sign the report.

Minute of dissent by Mr. Ramizuddin Ahmed, M.L.A.

I sign this report subject to the following minute of dissent that I am always against the imposition of any taxation which directly or indirectly affects the poor agriculturists who are already overtaxed.

I am convinced that the money derived out of this taxation will primarily be spent not for nation-building works but for meeting deficits of the budget. These deficits ought to be met by exploring all possible channels of effecting economy in the present top heavy administration. The present tax is going to be imposed at a time when the distressingly low-buying capacity of the people is aggravated by the abnormal fall of price of jute and rise in the price of many essential articles of consumption due to war condition. I cannot, therefore, give my consent to this taxation. But if there be any taxation at all it should not exceed $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

My next objection is with regard to the schedule of exempted articles. Having regard to the extreme poverty of the majority of the people of Bengal who are half-starved, ill-clad, illiterate and victims of various diseases it is essential that other indispensable necessities of life like cloth, medicine, paper, books, kerosene, tobacco, etc., should also be exempted from this taxation.

Minute of dissent by Mr. Debi Prosad Khaitan, M.L.A.

My acceptance of the Report of the Select Committee is subject to the fundamental objection that a Sales Tax should not be levied, at least at the present stage.

The intention of the Bill is not to tax delivery orders, railway receipts, bills of lading, etc. I think that this point should be made clear.

Minute of dissent by Sir Henry Birkmyre, Bart., M.L.A.

I consider that in the present war time circumstances, in order to justify this tax, Government must in the first place establish that a Budget deficit will be realised in 1940-41. In the second place, if, in addition, Government require funds for expenditure over and above the present Budget expenditure, then in my opinion Government must establish that this expenditure is absolutely necessary and that there are definite completed and absolutely necessary schemes for which the additional funds are required. Until this is done, I reserve the right to oppose this Bill in the Legislature.

2. I am not altogether satisfied that the fixing of the taxable quantum in clause 4(5)(c) at Rs. 50,000 for all other dealers will not provide opportunities for evasion of the tax and I reserve the right to move any amendments with regard to this point that I may consider proper.

3. I am not satisfied that a rate of tax of one-quarter of an anna in the rupee is justified. The taxation is of an experimental nature and I consider that, unless Government can establish the absolute necessity in the present circumstances of raising Rs. 1½ crores by this tax, the rate of tax should not be more than 1 per cent.

4. I reserve the right to move any amendments to the provisions of the Bill that I consider proper.

At page 4 of the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941, after the name of Mr. Kirit Bhusan Das please add the name of Mr. W. C. Patton who signed the report after it was printed subject to the following minute of dissent, namely :— tax.

9. (1A) If upon information which has come into his possession, the Commissioner is satisfied that any dealer, who imports for sale any goods into Bengal or himself manufactures any goods for sale, has been liable to pay tax under this Act in respect of any period and has nevertheless wilfully failed to apply for registration, the Commissioner shall, at any time within three calendar years from the commencement of this Act and thereafter within twelve months from the expiry of such period, after giving the dealer an opportunity of being heard, proceed in such manner as may be prescribed to assess to the best of his judgment the amount of tax due from the dealer in respect of such period and all subsequent periods; and the Commissioner may direct that the dealer shall pay by way of penalty in addition to the amount of tax so assessed a sum not exceeding one and a half times that amount.

(1B) The amount of tax—

- (a) due where the returns are furnished without receipt showing full payment thereof, or
- (b) assessed under sub-section (1), less the sum, if any, already paid by the dealer in respect of the said period, or
- (c) assessed under sub-section (1A), together with the penalty directed to be paid under that sub-section,— shall be paid by the dealer into a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India by such date as may be specified in a notice issued by the Commissioner for this purpose.

The Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941.(Clauses 10—14.)

(2) Any amount of tax which remains unpaid after the date specified in the said notice [of assessment] shall be recoverable as an arrear of [a public demand] land-revenue.

(3) Any assessment made under this section shall be without prejudice to any prosecution instituted for an offence against this Act.

[Refunds.]

[10. Subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, the Commissioner shall, on application in the prescribed manner, refund to a registered dealer any amount of tax paid by him under this Act—

(a) in excess of the amount of tax due from him ; or

(b) in respect of any sums written off as bad debts in the annual statement of accounts of his business, provided that such accounts have been certified by an auditor possessing the prescribed qualifications and that the Commissioner is satisfied that sufficient attempt to recover the debts has been made.]

Refunds.

10. The Commissioner shall, in the prescribed manner, refund to a registered dealer applying in this behalf any amount of tax paid by such dealer in excess of the amount due from him under this Act, either by cash payment or, at the option of the dealer, by deduction of such excess from the amount of tax due in respect of any subsequent return.

Accounts.

11. Every dealer to whom the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 8 apply, shall keep a true account of the value of goods bought and sold by him, and if the Commissioner considers that such account is not sufficiently clear and intelligible to enable him to make a proper check of the returns referred to in that sub-section, he may require such dealer by notice in writing to keep such accounts (including records of sales) as may be prescribed.

Production and inspection of accounts and documents, and search of premises.

12. (1) The Commissioner may, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, require any dealer to produce before him any accounts or documents, or to furnish any information, relating to the business of the dealer as may be necessary for the purposes of this Act.

(2) All accounts, registers, documents and goods kept in any place of business of any dealer shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by the Commissioner.

(3) If the Commissioner has reason to suspect that any dealer is attempting to evade payment of any tax under this Act, he may seize [any] such accounts, registers or documents of the dealer as may be necessary, and shall grant a receipt for the same, and shall retain the same only for so long as may be necessary for examination thereof or for a prosecution.

(4) For the purposes of sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) the Commissioner may enter and search any place of business of any dealer.

Delegation of Commissioner's powers.

13. Subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be prescribed, the Commissioner may by order in writing delegate any of his powers under this Act [except those under section 16 and sub-section (2) of section 19] to any [officer subordinate to] person appointed under section 3 to assist him.

Information to be furnished regarding changes of business.

14. If any dealer to whom the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 8 apply,—

(a) sells or otherwise disposes of his business or any part of his business or any place of business, or

The Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941.

(Clauses 15—18.)

- (b) discontinues his business or changes his place of business or opens a new place of business, or
- (c) changes the name or nature of his business—

he shall within the prescribed time inform the prescribed authority accordingly ; and if any such dealer dies, his legal representative shall in like manner inform the said authority.

Tax payable by transferee of business.

15. When the ownership of the business of a registered dealer is transferred, any tax payable in respect of such business remaining unpaid at the time of the transfer shall be payable by the transferee as if he was the registered dealer ; and the transferee shall within fourteen days of the transfer apply for registration under section 7.

Power to Commissioner to determine disputes.

16. If any question arises (otherwise than in a prosecution before a court) whether or not for the purposes of this Act—

- (a) any person or firm or any branch or department of any firm is a dealer, or
- (b) any [dealer is a contractor,] transaction is a sale or contract, or
- (c) any particular goods purchased by a registered dealer are [specified in] covered by his certificate of registration, or
- (d) tax is payable in respect of any particular sale or contract, the Commissioner shall determine such question :

Provided that any such determination shall not affect the liability of any dealer under this Act in respect of any contract entered into or sale effected prior to such determination, unless the Commissioner is satisfied that the dealer has been wilfully evading or attempting to evade payment of tax in respect of any sale of, or contract for supply of, any goods to which such determination relates.

[Bar to proceedings in Civil Courts.]

[17. No assessment made under this Act and no order passed by the Commissioner or any officer subordinate to him under this Act or the rules made thereunder shall be called into question in any Civil Court, and no appeal or application for revision or review shall be made against any such assessment or order save as may be provided in this Act.]

Appeal, revision and review.

18. (1) Within thirty days of the receipt of a notice [of assessment] issued under sub-section (1B) of section 9, any dealer may in the prescribed manner appeal to the prescribed authority against such assessment :

Provided that no appeal shall be entertained by the said authority unless he is satisfied that such amount of tax as the appellant may admit to be due from him has been paid.

The Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941.(Clause 18A.)

(2) Subject to such rules of procedure as may be prescribed, the appellate authority, in disposing of any appeal under sub-section (1), may--

(3) Subject to such rules as may be prescribed and for good and sufficient reasons to be recorded in writing, the Commissioner upon application or of his own motion may revise any order passed under this Act or the rules thereunder by [an officer subordinate to] a person appointed under section 3 to assist him, and subject as aforesaid, the Board of Revenue may, in like manner, revise any order passed by the Commissioner.

(4) Subject to such rules as may be prescribed, any order passed under this Act or the rules made thereunder by any [officer] person appointed under section 3 may be reviewed by the [officer] person passing it.

(5) Before any order is passed under this section which is likely to affect adversely any person, such person shall be given an opportunity of being heard.

Statement of case to High Court.

18A. (7) Within thirty days of the passing by the Board of Revenue under sub-section (3) of section 18 of any order affecting the amount of tax payable by a dealer under this Act, such dealer may, by application in writing accompanied by a fee of one hundred rupees, require the Board to refer to the High Court any question of law arising out of such order.

(2) If, for reasons to be recorded, the Board of Revenue refuses to make such reference, the applicant may, within thirty days of such refusal, either—

- (a) withdraw his application (and if he does so, the fee paid shall be refunded), or
- (b) apply to the High Court against such refusal.

● (3) If upon the receipt of an application under clause (b) of sub-section (2), the High Court is not satisfied of the correctness of the Board's decision, it may require the Board to state the case and refer it and on the receipt of such requisition, the Board shall state and refer the case accordingly.

(4) If the High Court is not satisfied that the statements in a case referred under this section are sufficient to enable it to determine the question raised thereby, it may refer the case back to the Board of Revenue to make such additions thereto or alterations therein as the Court may direct in that behalf.

(5) The High Court upon the hearing of any such case shall decide the question of law raised thereby, and shall deliver its judgment thereon containing the grounds on which such decision is founded, and shall send to the Board of Revenue a copy of such judgment under the seal of the Court and the signature of the Registrar, and the Board shall dispose of the case accordingly.

The Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Bill, 1941.

(Clauses 19—22.)

(6) Where a reference is made to the High Court under this section, the costs (including the disposal of the fee) shall be in the discretion of the Court.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 7·8 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in India.)

Character of the season.—After the issue of the Second Forecast the weather and its effects on the crop were fairly favourable on the whole. Some damage was caused by drought and insect-pests in certain districts.

Acreage.—The total area planted is estimated at 331,100 acres (revised) this year as against 315,800 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the average outturn of the crop for the Province works out at 81 per cent. of the normal this year as against 84 per cent. last year.

Taking 540 maunds as the normal yield of sugarcane per acre the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 5,320,000 tons this year as against 5,262,000 tons last year; and on the basis of gur/cane ratio of 1:10 as the standard for the whole of the Province the gross outturn of cane gur is estimated at 532,000 tons this year as against 526,200 tons last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur likely to be obtained from date-palm juice and other sources is estimated at 102,000 tons this year as against 101,200 tons last year.

The quantity of gur for the Province from all sources is thus estimated at 634,000 tons this year as against 627,400 tons last year.
